2. Study Plan (1–3 pages, including self-introduction, motivation for application, and future plans)
3. Proof of Chinese language proficiency: TOCFL Level A2 / HSK Level 4 or above.

- Program Introduction

This four-year bachelor's program admits both international and overseas Chinese students and is divided into Group A and Group B.

Group A is designed for students whose native language is not Chinese. In the first and second years, the curriculum focuses on intensive Chinese language training to strengthen listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills, while also allowing time for self-exploration and interest development.

In the third and fourth years, students may choose from two learning pathways:
(1) freely selecting courses from any department in the university to pursue a first or second major, or
(2) enrolling in the "Applied Chinese Studies Program," which is specifically tailored for international students to integrate language skills with professional knowledge and enhance global competitiveness.
